

Would Prevent Military Use in School Issues

By GORDON BROWN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Winstead (D-Miss) today criticized the Eisenhower administration for sending troops to Little Rock during the school integration crisis there. He called on Congress to "put legislative handcuffs" on the executive to prevent such action in the future.

Men in authority who would use the military against citizens of a sovereign state must be convinced, Winstead said, that "formers of the constitution meant for the military to be servants of the people—not their masters."

Winstead made his remarks in connection with plans to introduce two bills aimed at limiting use of federal troops.

One bill would prohibit the president from calling the National Guard into federal service except in time of war, threat of invasion or when requested by a state governor or legislature.

The second would prohibit use of federal troops to enforce federal court orders and state laws.

Winstead said in a speech prepared for the House that his bills came "as a result of the disgraceful action of this administration in calling out the National Guard of Arkansas and in ordering 1,200 battle ready paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division into Little Rock to force the integration of nine Negro children at Central High School."

Unless repellections can be prevented, Winstead said, "we have witnessed the beginning of the end of our cherished form of government."

Sending armed troops into a state against private citizens, he said, "sounds more like Nazi Germany, Fascist Italy or even Communist Russia."

He added:

"We sing of the home of the

Judge Garrett Announces for Another Term

Judge U. G. Garrett today announced for re-election to the office of Hempstead County Judge. He issued the following statement in behalf of his candidacy:

"When you citizens of Hempstead County elected me as your County Judge I entered into the duties of this responsible office fully realizing that it was no small undertaking, handling the financial business of the county as well as the disbursing of it, and the road building and maintenance."

"This I have done by devoting my full time and effort toward carrying out the many duties of this very important job."

"I have tried to keep and maintain all of the many roads in Hempstead County and to assist in the programming of hard surfaced farm to market roads. I have cooperated with all of the cities and towns of Hempstead County in their street improvement activities and will continue to assist them in any way possible during my administration."

"As your County Judge I have been called upon by the many committees formed in various parts of the county interested in going before the Arkansas State Highway Department and getting them to hard surface all of the roads under the state system, with the exception of Highway No. 79 from Cross Roads to Searles, which is being programmed for the year of 1958, which will complete all of the state system in our county with the exception of 12 miles that the state took over. With my efforts, we will try and get that part of the road system blattedopped."

"The county has completed 5 1/2 miles Hope-Palmos road; 1 1/2 miles DeAnn Community of hard surface roads this past year and we have programmed the rest of the Hope-Palmos road to Palmos and so the road from Bleivins to Highway 19, hoping to get this work completed this year."

"We now have the road equipment on hand to assist in carrying out this road program. As we all know it takes time and money to do this and I know that it can and will be done in time."

"I fully realize the responsibility and work it will take to carry out this program and will accept this responsibility as county judge to devote my full time and effort to accomplish what is outlined and it is really something that we all well know that needs to be done in order for our communities to grow and develop in order that Hempstead County will advance forward."

"Our schools can grow and our young people will have more to look forward to in the future. With all this as our goal I now earnestly and sincerely submit myself to you as your candidate for County Judge of Hempstead County."

Forced Landing in Florida, One Killed

MIAMI Fla. (AP) — An Air Force Stratotanker plane made a forced landing in the Everglades today 20 miles west of here killing one crew member and critically injuring another.

Four other crewmen parachuted safely and walked to a cement plant just off the Tamiami Trail the east-west highway across the Everglades.

A Homestead Air Force Base spokesman described the accident as a forced or emergency landing rather than a crash. The Florida Highway Patrol reported the plane had run out of fuel and was unable to reach an airport after being warned away from the Homestead field because of weather conditions.

The Air Force said the plane was on a routine training mission from Homestead. It came down about 4:10 a.m.

Second Health Nurse Okayed by City Board

Last night at City Hall the Board of Directors of Hope agreed to go along with a proposal by Judge U. G. Garrett to secure another nurse to help County Health Nurse Mrs. Inez Turner.

The group agreed to match county funds of $800 annually toward the salary of the extra nurse. The matter is now up to the Hope School System which is also asked to contribute. The local funds will be matched by the state.

Chief of Police Jack Brown submitted a report on free loading zones granted to various business houses. Following the discussion in which it developed that some establishments are using the zones privately the group ordered the Chief to place parking meters at two previously free zones. He was also instructed to keep a close check in the future.

A proposal by an Independent Oil Company to construct a gasoline service station on Third Street, across from the Catholic Church, met with opposition from residents of the area. The matter was turned over to the City Attorney for study.

The group authorized City Manager Garland Medders to secure bids on a pickup truck to be used by the Sewer Department.

The county has completed 5 1/2 miles Hope-Palmos road; 1 1/2 miles DeAnn Community of hard surface roads this past year and we have programmed the rest of the Hope-Palmos road to Palmos and so the road from Bleivins to Highway 19, hoping to get this work completed this year."

"We now have the road equipment on hand to assist in carrying out this road program. As we all know it takes time and money to do this and I know that it can and will be done in time."

DEALT BLOW — From the Panhandle to the lower Rio Grande valley, weather dealt Texas a severe blow over the weekend. Up to 20 inches of snow fell on west Texas, the heaviest reported at Plainview. More than 500 trucks and cars were stranded when deep drifts and ice closed highways in the area. Torrential rains dumped up to 9 inches of water on Edinburg forcing evacuation of many residents from a 71-block area in the city. At Odessa, R. H. Walner and his daughter, Paula, took advantage of the snow to construct this Texas original on their lawn, a Texas snow-bunny. — NEA Telephoto

424 Coins Removed From Man's Stomach

DURHAM, England, (UP) — A hospital which removed 424 coins from the stomach of a "human cash register" announced today it would keep the money.

The hospital operated on a man—name not disclosed—and removed 360 half-pennies (about the size of a quarter), 28 six-pence pieces (about the size of a dime), 17 three penny bits (nickel size) and four shillings (quarter size) worth in all about $5.

The hospital did not say why the man swallowed the coins, but Daily Mirror columnist Cassandra wrote that the decision to keep the money amounted to embezzlement of the man's savings.

Industrial Fund Climbs to $73,805

Twelve more firms and individuals have bought stock in the Hempstead County Industrial Foundation Fund, Secretary-Treasurer B. N. Holt reported today.

This brings the total fund to $73,805.00 and represents a total of 79 persons and firms who have purchased stock. The goal is $250,000.

Congress Not Likely to Change Farm Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The returning Congress may give some attention to farm problems, but it is unlikely to do anything that would affect 1958 crop programs.

Many proposals will be offered to change current programs affecting cotton, corn, wheat, and some other crops as well as dairy products. Some doubtless would make changes this year.

But because of the sharp differences in views over farm policies between the Eisenhower administration and many farm-state congressmen, and also among the major farm organizations, few leaders expect enactment of legislation that would change this year's operations.

In the case of cotton, there will be strong pressure from Southern leaders for remodeling of the present program. But inasmuch as growers start planting the crop in southern Texas in February, there appears little likelihood of congressional action by that time.

The administration would like to throw off planting allotments on corn. But here again time is the limiting factor. Congressional action would have to be completed by late March or early April.

Police Auto, School Bus Hit, 4 Hurt

HARRISON Ark. (AP) — A school bus and a state police car pursuing a speeding automobile collided here yesterday slightly injuring four students aboard the bus.

Although both the patrol car and the bus were heavily damaged, State Trooper Point Allen and the driver of the bus, Talmadge Honeycutt, 54 of Fayette, escaped injury.

The speeder got away. The students who suffered minor injuries were the only passengers on the bus. They were identified as Norma Patton, 15 her brother John, 11 and their cousins, Janice Patton, 16 and Brenda Sue Patton, 9 all of near Fayette.

Honeycutt said the bus had been loaded with children a short time before but at the time of the crash he was turning onto a side road to make his last stop.

Jaycees Plan Boss of the Year Awards

Each year the Jaycees of the nation set aside one week as Jaycee Week, at which time they try to acquaint the general public with the plans and programs of their club and themselves.

A part of Jaycee Week is the annual Bosses Night Banquet. The purpose of this banquet is to pay honor to the bosses and show them how the Jaycees are progressing as individuals and to announce the Boss of the Year.

Jaycee Week this year will be Jan. 19th through the 25th. The Bosses Night Banquet will be held Monday night, Jan. 20th. Each Jaycee is urged to bring his boss as an outstanding program is being arranged.

In conjunction with Bosses Night and as part of Jaycee Week the local club will announce the outstanding young man to receive the Distinguished Service Award.

This award is presented to an outstanding member of the community who has contributed more than usual to the general welfare during the year. There are only three (3) rules that apply to the selection of this man and they are:

1. Man must be between ages of 21 and 35.
2. Nominee need not be a Jaycee.
3. Nominee will be judged in accordance to his contributions to the welfare of the community, evidence of leadership ability and evidence of personal and business progress.

The general public is urged to nominate young men who they think qualify as the outstanding young man of the year. The final decision will be made by a panel of outstanding Hope citizens.

Nomination blanks will be found elsewhere in this paper. They should be mailed not later than Jan. 15th to: Dr. Lloyd Guerlin, Hope.

Congress, Certain to Be Dominated by Space Age, Convenes Today

President to Give Congress Balanced Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told Republican legislative leaders today he will send Congress a balanced budget calling for spending about 74 billion dollars to help meet the threat.

Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California reported after a conference with the President that he got the impression that Eisenhower is convinced the current year will be better from the standpoint of business generally than last year.

In reply to questions Knowland told a news conference at the White House he and the President were thinking of both the 1958 calendar year and the fiscal year commencing July 1 as compared with the current fiscal year and the 1957 calendar year.

Responding to another question Senator Knowland said Eisenhower is confident of a better 1958 from an economic standpoint despite the current business recession.

The senator left no doubt that the President looks for a business upswing in the months ahead. Knowland made his report on the President's thinking at the close of a White House briefing for GOP leaders from the Capitol on the State of the Union message Eisenhower will deliver to Congress personally Thursday.

The conference came just in advance of the noon opening of the second session of the 85th Congress in which the nation's defenses are marked for top priority.

President Eisenhower is expected to deal almost exclusively with national defense and foreign policy issues raised by the Russian Sputnik launchings and the reported Soviet test of firing a manned rocket 188 miles up.

Kremlin Mum on Rocket Carrying Man

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin kept mum today on unofficial reports that Russia has fired a man-carrying rocket about 186 miles high and got the passenger back to earth.

The official blackout aroused speculation that the rocket experiment, if it did happen, may not have been a complete success.

Unofficial informants, who have been reliable in the past, said the experiment took place a day or so after Jan. 1 and the passenger parachuted back to earth. The informants did not say whether first space traveler went all the way up with the rocket, or just how he escaped from it.

The Foreign Ministry, the State Committee for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries, and the spokesman for the Soviet Academy of Sciences all said they had no information on the report of the manned rocket.

Neither Tass, the Soviet news agency nor any of the official Moscow newspapers made any mention today of the reported experiment.

Stock Market Mixed, Quiet

NEW YORK (AP) — Airplane-related and other issues caused some early losses but the stock market was mixed in quiet trading early this afternoon.

The improvement from a slightly lower trend which prevailed earlier came on word that President Eisenhower told Republican leaders he was confident the United States economy would have a better year in 1958 than in 1957 and that he will send Congress a balanced budget calling for spending of about 74 billion dollars.

The aircraft recovered immediately and posted gains running from fractions to about a point.

Nevada Co. Grand Jury in Session

The Nevada County Grand Jury, which will hold office for a six-month period, was sworn into office Monday, Jan. 6. B. A. DeCamar was appointed by Judge Lyle Brown to serve as foreman, and J. A. Yancey was selected clerk. The other members are Horace Jones, Floyd Crain, Omer Bonnett, Frank Gilbert, D. Starnes, Ross McKissick, J. K. McDonald, Bruce Stewart, J. P. Hart, W. M. Blackshire, Joe Munn Jr., Howard Rhodes, Charlie Scott and George Harrison.

Four grand jury committees were set up for the purpose of making preliminary investigations of various phases of county government. The Committee on Law Enforcement will meet on April 2, at 2 p.m.; the Committee on County Property will meet on April 1, at 9 a.m.; the Committee on County Officers will meet Feb. 9, at 10 a.m.; the Committee of Examination of Financial Accounts will meet on Feb. 10, at 9 a.m.

The entire Grand Jury will next meet on April 23 to receive the reports of their various committees and take action thereon. In its preliminary report to the Court the Grand Jury requested that all meeting dates be made known to the general public, with the invitation to any interested citizen to appear before them on any matter over which the Grand Jury has jurisdiction.

The White House has indicated this will deal almost exclusively with national defense and foreign policy issues in the light of Soviet space challenges.

The somber tone of the congressional mood was sounded by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in an address to a meeting of all senators of his party shortly before the opening of the new session.

Four Children Die in Utah House Fire

MOAB, Utah (AP) — Four children died last night when fire destroyed their small frame home near this southeast Utah uranium boom town.

Their frantic parents unable to reach them from inside the house tried to enter through a bedroom window but were driven back by the flames.

The victims all children of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McGahey were Allen, 6, Scotty, 3, and 1-year-old twins Don and JoAnn.

McGahey, a uranium mill worker, suffered burns on the neck and back. His wife Lois was cut about the hand when she thrust it through a window of the children's bedroom in vain attempt to reach them. Both parents who fled in their night clothes were treated for shock.

Sheriff John Steaks of Grand County blamed the fire on an overheated coal stove.

Same Leaders to Deal With New Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress convened today for a session certain to be dominated by national concern over Russian strides into the space and rocket age.

Among many of the returning members there was an apparent sense of urgency such as prevailed in the early days of World War II.

"The men and women who must grapple with the Sputnik-spawned problems of the day are the same ones who sat in the first session of the 85th Congress. The leadership is the same."

But the mood was so altered as to make this an entirely different Congress from the one which shut up shop last August. At that time many members were growing that cuts had been made in the Eisenhower administration's spending plans and the way thus opened for a tax cut in this 1958 election year.

Now, tax cut talk is hushed. Instead, some members are asking whether a sagging economy can be bolstered and defense needs met without resorting to red ink financing.

President Eisenhower gave a word to his Republican legislative leaders that he will present a balanced budget of about 74 billion dollars. This would be an increase of about two billion from his budget for the current fiscal year. The GOP legislators met with the President at the White House before the formalities of opening Congress.

Eisenhower's budget is to be presented to the Congress next Monday. This Thursday he will deliver in person his annual State of the Union message.

The White House has indicated this will deal almost exclusively with national defense and foreign policy issues in the light of Soviet space challenges.

The somber tone of the congressional mood was sounded by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in an address to a meeting of all senators of his party shortly before the opening of the new session.

Kids Able to Fire Rockets Successfully

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—The Experimental Research Society, Inc. has successfully fired five rockets since its inception in March 1956. Experimental Research Society? What's that? Oh, just a dozen Boise high school kids.

Most of them plan careers in science. Their callousness has survived an explosion which put seven of them in the hospital.

The young rocketeers have attempted 14 launches from Cinder Butte, a rocky outcropping in the desert southwest of Boise. Of the five successfully fired, the highest went about 500 feet.

The members pay dues of $15 a year. They incorporated the organization partly in an effort to convince older people that they are serious about it.

"Some of them seem to think we're just a bunch of odd kids trying to play Buck Rogers instead of settling down and making hot rods like everybody else," says Gary Bennett, president.

All first the society met in the basement of the Bennett home. On Dec. 1, 1956, charcoal dust being used as rocket fuel ignited caught fire and exploded in the basement. Eight youngsters, including a 14-year-old girl, were burned. With a couple of exceptions, they still are members of the organization.

The society since has moved its headquarters to Garden City, a suburb, where it shares a building with the local hot rodders organization.

Aged Ex-Arkansan Dies in Georgia

ATLANTA (AP)—Mrs. William Edward Bryan 102 widow of a Georgia educator died Sunday at the home of a son in Atlanta.

Born Feb. 1, 1885 in Lexington, Ga., she taught school in Magnolia Ark. as a young woman and there met her husband William Edward Bryan who later became superintendent of schools for Ringgold and Caloosa county.

Mrs. Bryan taught in Ringgold for a number of years.

Survivors include two sons William Lyle Bryan of Atlanta, president of the Georgia Life and Health Insurance Co., and Dr. Richard Walker Bryan a professor at Louisiana Tech, of Ruston La.

Funeral services were scheduled today. Burial will be at Dalton Ga.

Fire Destroys Supermarket in N. L. R.

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a large supermarket here last night and routed a number of families who lived in apartments in the building.

No one was injured.

Fire Chief J. P. Caldwell estimated the loss at more than $200,000.

O. C. Coward, night manager of a tourist court directly across Broadway from Pat's Super Market, said he noticed the outside store lights flickering shortly after 11 p.m.

A few minutes later, Coward said, the entire front window fell out and the store was ablaze.

About 35 firemen fought the flames in sub-freezing weather. Caldwell said the fire was under control in two hours.

A few firemen poked through embers and quenched small fires in the ruins as late as 10 a.m. today.

Caldwell said all the walls of the 100 by 40 foot structure were standing but most of the roof had caved in.

A few families living in some apartments in an upper story of the store escaped without incident, the fire chief said.

The supermarket and the five apartments were owned by John W. (Pat) Jones, who opened the store several years ago.

For a time the stiff north wind fanned the flames towards nearby stores, Caldwell said, but there was little trouble confining the fire to the supermarket.

Caldwell said it was so cold that water from hoses froze as it fell and "so many firemen got sprayed that way they looked like Santa Claus."

The fire was the largest in about a year here, Caldwell said.

Mass of Cold Air Moves Into State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A mass of cold air swept into Arkansas last night, bringing lower temperatures to the entire state.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said temperatures will plunge to as low as 10 degrees in the north portion of the state tonight. The forecast called for a hard freeze.

The cold air will remain throughout the week although moderating temperatures are expected Thursday, the Weather Bureau said.

Low readings early today included 18 degrees at Mountain Home, 19 at Gilbert and Fayetteville, 28 at Little Rock, 25 at Fort Smith, 29 at Pine Bluff, 28 at El Dorado, 28 at Texarkana, 23 at Walnut Ridge, 20 at Pippin and 24 at Blytheville.

No rain was reported in Arkansas yesterday.

Highs this afternoon were expected to range in the 30s, with lows tonight from 10 to 20.

U. S. to Continue Part of Soil Bank

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today the administration will recommend ending the half-billion-dollar annual acreage reserve part of the soil bank program at the end of this crop year.

Benson also told a news conference his department's budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1 will be no larger than this year's $3,400,000,000 figure.

Benson said the administration plans to send its farm recommendations to Congress in a special message possibly Jan. 15 or 16. He did not discuss these recommendations.

Under the soil bank's acreage reserve, the government offers payments to farmers who retire cultivated acres from production of corn, cotton, wheat, rice and sorghum—major surplus crops. This program is now scheduled to expire at the end of the 1959 crop year.

Execution Stay Granted to Leggett

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Convicted slayer Emmett Earl Leggett was granted an indefinite stay of execution by the Arkansas Supreme Court today on a second appeal to the high court.

Leggett had been scheduled to die Friday in the state electric chair for the strangulation killing of 14-year-old Joe King of Jacksonville.

The execution date for the December 1955 slaying has been delayed five times.

Today's postponement was ordered by Justice Minor W. Millican, who accepted the appeal from attorney John W. Bailey.

Bailey contended his client was denied the right to be confronted by witnesses during his 1956 trial. The lawyer's reference was to State Hospital psychiatrists who found Leggett legally sane.

The new appeal for Leggett is being taken under a 1957 act which is not yet fully tested in the courts.

The act provides that a court of original jurisdiction—in this instance Pulaski Circuit Court—may review a conviction after affirmation by a higher court if new matters are presented which were not disposed of or waived at the original trial. Pulaski Circuit Judge William J. Kirby denied Bailey's contention that the case should be reopened, but granted an appeal.

The Supreme Court affirmed the death sentence following the original conviction.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—School faubus yesterday appointed Leon A. Watson of Siloam Springs to the State Burial Assn. Board replacing Rex Nelson of Derryville. He reappointed Dr. H. J. Hall of Clinton to the State Medical Board.

CHICAGO (AP)—Dr. Oliver C. Wenger 73 who once directed the U. S. Public Health Service's free clinic and bath house at Hot Springs Ark. and later was in private practice there died here yesterday following a heart attack.

CLARKSVILLE Ark. (AP)—Hermon McCracken 61 of Ozark and Roy Boyer 54 of Clarksville both state game wardens were injured seriously in a head on automobile collision near here yesterday. The driver of the other car Art Gruber 34 of Tulsa Okla. was not seriously hurt.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—School Supt. Virgil Bloomer conferred yesterday with Minnie Jean Brown and her parents but did not announce when the Negro girl's suspension from Central High School would be lifted. The girl was suspended before the Christmas holidays for dropping a bowl of food on a white boy in the school cafeteria.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Public Service Commission yesterday granted the Lonoke County town of Keo authority to build a gas transmission line and lease it to Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co.

Needn't Be Fatal, Says NAACP Head

NEW YORK (AP)—Naming three Southerners to the new Civil Rights Commission "need not be fatal to meaningful accomplishment but is understandably a cause for uneasiness" says the executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Ray Wilkins the NAACP secretary urged the three Southerners yesterday not to use their position "to delay action gloss over conditions and ignore known evils."

He made the appeal here at the organization's 49th annual report meeting.

The three Southerners all Democrats are former Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia; Robert G. Storer dean of Southern Methodist University, Dallas; and former Gov. Doyle E. Carlton of Florida.

Wilkins said the six-member commission is not expected to perform a miracle.

Firm Merger Is Reported Costly

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Merger of two Conway firms owned by the same family has been completed at a book loss of $146,000 an attorney said yesterday.

The firms merged were the Ward Body Works and Ward School Furniture Inc. both owned by D. H. Ward of Conway his wife and their children.

Pulaski Chancellor Guy E. Williams had ordered sale of some of the furniture company's equipment to satisfy a $178,170 debt for which Ward Body Works had sued.

Faulkner Circuit Clerk Wendell Bryant reported that Ward Body Works submitted the highest bid of $30,000 and the equipment was sold on that basis. An attorney for the Wards said this meant that the books of the body works would reflect a loss of $146,000 in completing the merger.

School Guard Now Day Time Only

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen are on duty at integrated Central High School in the daytime only as of today, another move relaxing the military surveillance at the school.

Guardsmen left Central High at 5 p. m. yesterday and will no longer serve at night, weekends or holidays on the campus. They will be at the school between 7 a. m. and 5 p. m. Mondays through Fridays.

The decision was reached by the Arkansas Military District after discussions with authorities at Washington and officials of the Little Rock School District.

Meanwhile, eight of the nine Negro students attending Central showed for class as usual.

The absentee is Minnie Jean Brown still under suspension for an incident during which she overturned food on two white students in the school cafeteria.

A second conference between Supt. Virgil Bloomer and the girl and her parents was held yesterday but no decision was made as to when she would be reinstated. She was suspended before the Christmas holidays.

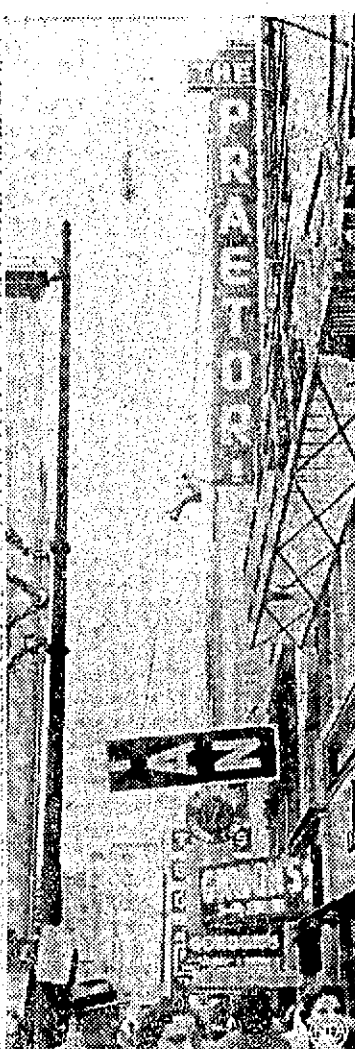

Gunman Robs Grocer at El Dorado
EL DORADO Ark. (AP)—A grocer told police a gunman last night hid in the rear of his station wagon and robbed him of the day's receipts from two stores.

Early today officers arrested two men in connection with the case.

They said one admitted the robbery. No charges had been filed.

TONGUE-TYPED—Blond, but not fair-haired as far as the photographer is concerned, is this lad in Melbourne, Australia. The barefaced boy with cheek apparently refused to say "cheese" for this picture.

HEADS UP!—Shoppers strolling along a Dallas, Tex., street appear unaware of the man who seems to be hurtling through mid-air high above them. Actually, he's a workman dangling on a rope during the dismantling of a seven-story sign on the Prater Building west of the Mississippi. The sign, taken down in six 700-pound sections, is being removed in accordance with Dallas plan to rid itself of the "cluttered look."

and $500 in checks and fled Chandler said.

Police Capt. Lloyd Pratt said about $950 in cash and checks was recovered.

Missouri May Raise Pay of State Workers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Missouri Committee for Legislative Improvement announced today a statewide survey shows the state's leaders are in favor of a pay increase for state legislators and favor annual sessions of the General Assembly.

"Now that the survey is completed the committee will move forward initiating petitions to place these two matters before voters in the coming November election," said David Larkin, committee chairman.

The committee of about 85 business and professional men, most of them from the St. Louis area, sent out about 20,000 questionnaires of the two issues and received about 3,600 replies.

"Eighty-three per cent favor a raise in salary for the lawmakers, ranging from $5,000 to $7,500 per annum, and 95 per cent favor the annual session," Larkin said.

The group polled was described by Larkin as representative civic, industrial and labor leaders from throughout the state. The percentage of replies from rural Missouri was smaller and the majority favoring the two proposals in those sections ran only about 60 per cent, Larkin said.

The state's legislators currently are paid only $125 a month. A proposal to raise their pay to $300 a month and increase travel allowances, sponsored by the legislators themselves, was soundly defeated in a special election last April. Voters in St. Louis and Kansas City were in favor of the pay increase but the proposed constitutional change was rejected by a margin of nearly two to one in outstate Missouri.

Judge to Get Tough With Delinquents

HOT SPRINGS Ark. (AP)—Municipal Judge M. C. Lewis Jr. last night called for a "get tough" policy for juvenile criminals here.

Lewis who appeared in a panel discussion on "Discipline for Today's Children" at a meeting of the Hot Springs Education Assn. said youthful offenders often manifest a genuine disrespect for law and order when they appear in his court.

The judge cited a recent increase in juvenile offenses in Hot Springs and said "it's time we did something about it."

Police Chief John Ermy said later that "the judge is absolutely right. A get tough policy might be the answer."

Mrs. Eva Goolsby of the state Child Welfare Department said parental inexperience and bad influences from entertainment (movies and television) in poor taste are major contributing factors to juvenile delinquency.

She said the welfare department often could aid in the problem of inadequate home background but she added:

"Usually by the time we are called in it is too late for the little we can offer."

It has been estimated that water consumption in the United States has increased 1,300 per cent in the last 50 years.

HD Council Makes 1958 Plans

Left to right, sitting: Mrs. Lester Kent, Mrs. Lamar Williams, Mrs. Floyd Pharris Sr. Back row: Mrs. Ernest Graham, Mrs. Lorraine Wylie and Mrs. Glenon Huckabee.

Plans for the 1958 Home Demonstration Club year were made when the Home Demonstration Council Board met January 3 for a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Lorraine B. Wylie, Home Demonstration Agent, with Mrs. Ernest Graham, Council President, co-hostess.

DOROTHY DIX

A Young Man Lost, Strayed or Stolen

Dear Dorothy Dix: Donald and I were planning to be married this spring, but he was sent overseas and we decided to wait until he comes home. We've known each other almost two years. When he left he said he'd miss me terribly, would write every day if he possibly could, and expressed complete devotion. That was a month ago, and I haven't heard a word from him since. Should I forget him?

MARY
Dear Mary: I think you and Donald made a very wise decision when you postponed the wedding. For I doubt if either one of you is really in love.

If he truly loved her, he certainly could have gotten some word to you in the past month—unless he was shipped to the moon in a rocket. As for you, my dear, your emotions are entirely too mobile to be real. If you can forget the man by merely deciding to obliterate him from your mind, you're not in love. He's been lost, strayed or stolen somewhere in the course of foreign duty, and you are relatively unconcerned about him. Check this one off to experience and start all over again.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I live with an older sister who makes life miserable for me. She is a chronic nagger and her mores are persecutions is slowly making a nervous wreck of me. I can't escape without leaving town, and that involves giving up a good job.

MERCEDES
Dear Mercedes: Good jobs are easier to get than peace of mind. Why not make a drastic change and get yourself a job really far away. Send for my letter "Travel While You Work," which lists many sources of fascinating work that will take you traveling. A stamped self-addressed envelope will bring it to you.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband is a wonderful man in every respect but one—he loves to tell risqué stories, the more shocking the better. I am disgusted with his anecdotes, and I know our friends are, too. How can I stop him?

LULU
Dear Lulu: Since hubby's weakness is no secret, let your friends to co-operate with you. When he tells a blue story, all of you look perfectly blank as if you didn't get the point. He won't have the face to explain it, and after a few more tries, he'll quit.

Dear Dorothy Dix: My boy friend says he loves me, but doesn't believe any man should be devoted to one wife. How can I change his viewpoint?

MONA
Dear Mona: Not many young men are as frank as your friend, but perhaps, most of the male sex secretly regret that they cannot

Missourians to Pave State Parks

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The State Park Board will begin building roadways in the new Trail of Tears State Park in Cape Girardeau County next week.

Joseph J. Jorgensen, state park director, said today present plans call for five or six miles of roads in the 3,000-acre park, to provide the basic road system. At the start the roads will be graveled only, but a black top will be added as soon as the roadways settle firmly.

The Park Board hopes to use penitentiary labor for some work in the park, later. In preparation, the first building planned will be a group camp facility, of the type used as a dormitory for Scout groups. The convicts will be housed in the dormitory while they are engaged in their off-season work.

Still in the planning stage and awaiting appropriation of money by the Legislature are these additional facilities:

Three lakes to provide fishing and boating, trails for horseback riding through the excellent stands of American beech, oaks and short leaf pine, picnicking and outdoor camping facilities and a dining lodge on a high bluff overlooking the Mississippi River.

The area was purchased by residents of Cape Girardeau County and given to the state park system. It was on this site that the Cherokee Indians spent their first winter after being transferred by the government to a new reservation in Oklahoma.

have a wider variety than the low permits.

The best way to chill your friend's desire for a plummy job of wives, is show him the housekeeping account of some of your married friends. If moral persuasions don't win him over, economic ones might.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her in care of this newspaper.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that there has been filed in my office, as clerk of the Hempstead County Chancery Court, a Petition for the confirmation of the title to the following described lands in Hempstead County, Arkansas, to-wit:—

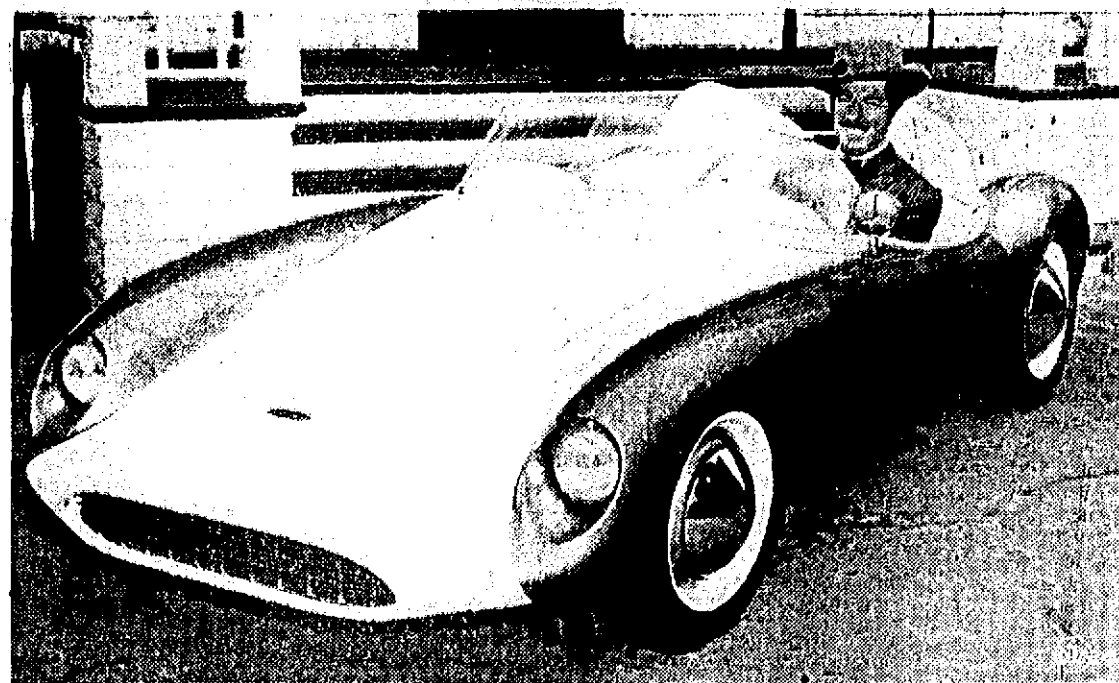

Part of Section Three (3) Township Nine (9) South, Range Twenty-six (26) West, described as follows:— Commence at the Northwest corner of Section Three (3), thence East 2513.99 feet; thence South 1393.02 feet to the South line of the Northeast Quarter of the Northwest Quarter (NE1/4NW1/4) of Section Three (3); thence East 335 feet to a point that is 23 rods East of the Northeast corner of the Southeast Quarter of Northwest Quarter (SE1/4NW1/4); thence South 1530 feet, more or less to the center of the Public Road; thence Southwesterly with said road to the South line of Section Three (3) thence West approximately 2310 feet to the Southwest corner of Section, thence North 5338.76 feet more or less to the Northwest corner of Section Three (3), the point of beginning, containing 338.57 acres, more or less.

The East half of the Southeast Quarter (SE1/4SE1/4) containing 80 acres. Part of the Southeast Quarter of the Northeast Quarter (SE1/4NE1/4) described as follows:— Commence at the Southeast corner of the forty acre tract, thence north 128 ft. to the creek; westerly with Creek to the first branch on the South side of the Creek; thence up said branch to the South line of the Southeast Quarter of the Northeast Quarter (SE1/4NE1/4) thence East to the point of beginning, containing 8 acres, more or less in Section Four (4) containing in all 421.57 acres, more or less, all in Township Nine (9) South, Range Twenty-six (26) West, and the quieting of the title to the same in Anita Stuart Terrell, the petitioner therein.

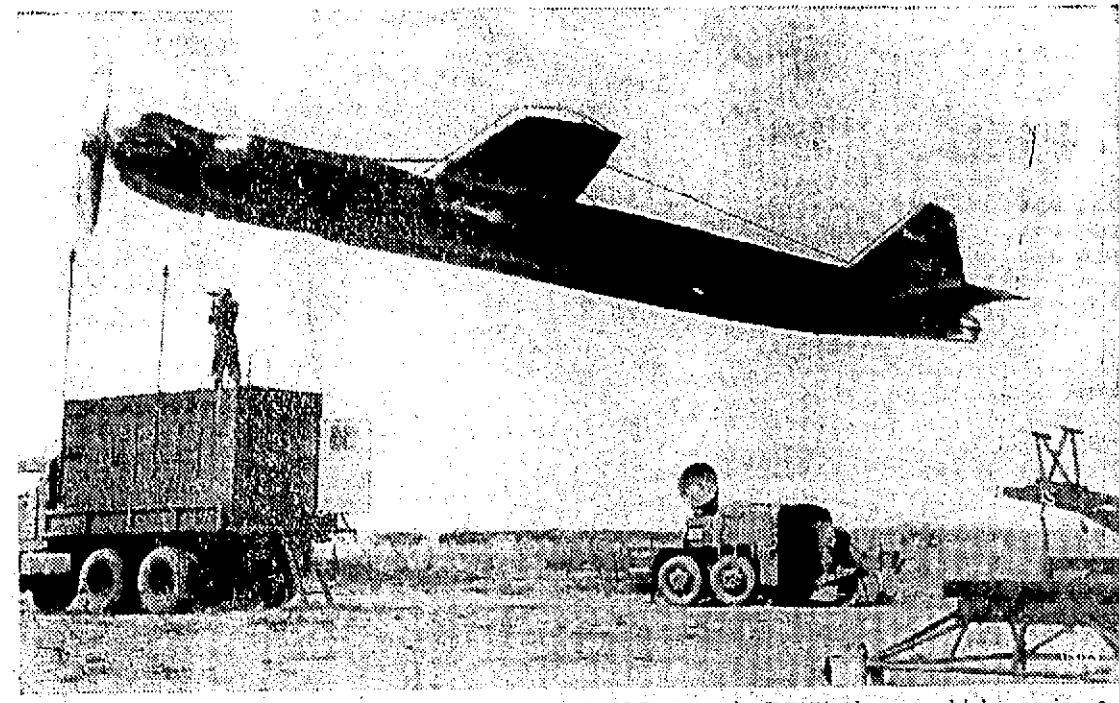

All persons claiming said lands, or any interest therein, are hereby warned to appear in the Hempstead County Chancery Court on the first day of its next March term and show cause why said title to said lands should not be confirmed in said Anita Stuart Terrell.

Witness my hand as Clerk of the Hempstead Chancery Court and the seal thereof on this 6th day of January 1958.

HAVE HOT ROD, WILL RACE—Hollywood TV stars are getting more like movie stars every day. Richard Boone plays the role of a western hero in "Have Gun, Will Travel" on TV every week, but in Hollywood a snappy custom-built sports car, not a horse, takes him to work. The car, with Boone at the wheel, is a Porsche. Only one of its kind in the world, it has a special 100-horsepower glass fiber body. Total weight of the $8,000 beauty is 1,000 pounds. The 140-horsepower engine can drive the car at speeds up to 135 m.p.h.

SKY SPY—Taking off from its launcher is the U.S. Army's RP-71 drone, which carries a lightweight reconnaissance camera enabling it to photograph an enemy's positions and movements at night. Controlled by radio, and tracked by radar, it can streak over enemy lines at night, obtain accurate, low-level photos and return home. The specially designed camera provides its own illumination by using an automatic flare ejector.

creed gunnysack theme of fashion, and shows clothes which look new but never conceal the important curves of the feminine figure.

Her most ingenious device is the "slip cover," a transparent chiffon overblouse, loose and unfitted, revealing the lines of a fitted sheath beneath. She also shows suits and dresses with the waistline defined by wide leather belts and employs subtle shaping to soften the effect of her straight sheaths.

Trigere calls her entire collection the "Shapeup" and proceeds to prove this no idle phrase. One compromise with the sack is a silhouette she calls "In Union," which is a straight, loose sheath with a belt threaded through slots, so that it appears in front and back, but leaves the sides hanging free.

She also employs "slip-cover" ruffles at the hemline to add interest and movement to unfitted sheaths, and resorts to such devices as white collars and vests.

Holden Would Make Picture Anywhere

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"There isn't a place in this world where I won't go if I think I can make a good picture there." This from international actor William Holden.

Even to Ceylon?

"Yes, even though I was miserable there, I'd go back if I thought the picture would be as good."

Antarctica?

"I'd go there too, though I hate cold."

He certainly proved his point. His point is this: that film stars can no longer sit beside Hollywood swimming pools; they must go all over the world.

In the past year, he went to Ceylon to make "The Bridge on the River Kwai." Then he traveled to England for "The Key" with Sophia Loren.

He's back in his Hollywood haunts, but who knows for how long?

"My thought about the film business is this: all this carping between the movie businesses in Japan, America, England, France, Italy, and all over is ridiculous."

He said, "We've got to wake up to the fact that we're all segments of the same industry. I think films are going to get more and more international all the time. The time will come when it will be commonplace for stars, directors and other creators to work on films in the industries of many countries."

Bill admitted that he had contemplated establishing his family residence in Switzerland, but decided against it.

"I've been home about five months in the past four years," he remarked. "If I'm not making pictures abroad, I'm overseas helping to sell them, spending two or three months in Japan, a month in Hong Kong and so forth."

Thought He Knew the Man Driving

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—State Trooper K. W. Messmer said he thought he recognized the man behind the wheel of the car as a former offender.

He was right. William Watson Whorton, 27, Clearfield, Pa., had this record: Six convictions for reckless driving, two for speeding two for drunken driving and five for driving with a revoked license.

He was sentenced to 10 months.

rees to draw the eye from the unfitted waistline of box-jacket suits. Opening the schedule of this week's spring style previews was the collection of the late Christian Dior—the final one designed before his death last October. Dior designed three main silhouettes for 1958—the unfitted sheath, the bloused sheath and the bell skirt, the latter for cocktail and dinner wear.

News Briefs

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union announced tonight a 300,000-man reduction in its armed forces in 1958 and challenged the Western nations to do likewise.

At the same time deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov told a news conference the Kremlin was considering "positively" British Prime Minister Macmillan's proposal for a nonaggression pact between East and West.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—When the doorbell rang Mrs. Paul Summers got up and answered. But the doorstep was empty and the darkened street offered no clue to her early-morning caller.

Then she shelled smoke and discovered a small fire in the cellar of her home in suburban Westmore.

"We sure do have a well-trained doorbell," her husband remarked before he inspected the damage.

The blaze had burned the insulation from the doorbell wire, which ran along the sub-flooring in the cellar.

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—No more can dog owners here say, "That wasn't my bound that dug up the Jones' flower bed. The mutt never leaves the yard."

The Idaho Humane Society chapter has obtained a camera for use in photographing dogs at large. The city has a new ordinance requiring dogs to be kept on the owners' property or pay a fine of up to $15.

The society says fines have been quietly paid when a master is confronted with a photo of Rover among the roses. If argument should arise, the dog, the master and the pictures go to court.

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Mrs. Robert Collins, once Beverly Hollingworth, yesterday received a postcard from "Wayne."

It said in part: "Hello, Speed! I just had to drop you a card. It only cost me a penny and, after all, I think you're worth at least that. I suppose I'll see you Friday."

The card was mailed in Logan, Utah, in 1947, to Beverly. Mrs. Collins doesn't know where it has traveled in the past 10 years. After some deep thought she remembered Wayne. He didn't show up that Friday.

The now mother of three sighed. "My husband says I'm worth more than a penny."

Aged British Film Star to Make Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Hollywood looks a bit different to May Hallatt, noted English actress here for her first American movie.

She was last through here in 1905, touring with E. H. Southern. Miss Hallatt is a shade this side of 80, though you'd never guess it. Her face is smooth and scarcely lined, and her manner is alert and even adventurous. After all, how many 80-year-olds would leave their homes to travel alone across an ocean and a continent to act in a movie?

I asked her why she did it. "Money," was her refreshingly frank reply.

Miss Hallatt played one of the guests of an English seaside hotel in the London stage hits "Separate Tables." She came to New York to repeat the role for nine months, missing only four performances.

Now she has left her London hotel to play in the film version, produced by Hecht-Hill-Lancaster.

Besides asking her to make the trip, the producers requested her to learn to play billiards.

"And I did," she said proudly. "I had one of the top players in Britain instruct me in a billiard hall in Soho. He said I showed great promise too."

She plays a salty old character with an affinity for billiards, horse races and Mickey Spillane. And she's enjoying herself immensely.

"The actress reminisced about her first trip here.

"I was touring with E. H. Southern in 1905," she said. "We were in San Francisco when they had an earthquake—not the big one; that came just a year later."

"Then we came down to Los Angeles—we didn't fly in those days, you know. There was no Hollywood then. I recall that Los Angeles was a lovely little town with lots of orange groves and tall palm trees. Pretty palm trees, not the shaggy ones you have here now."

Miss Hallatt has played all over the world.

She still remains active in British films and plays, and sees no reason why she should quit.

"If there is any reason why I remain active when I'm almost 80, it must be that I love what I'm doing," she said.

Gunsmoke Is Rated Top TV Western

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—In most fields of endeavor crystal ball gazing is a hazardous pastime. But some people in television feel they can reduce it almost to a science—“though don't quote me personally.”

The basic logic of the television programming prophets is simply this: What worked best last year is most likely to work best this. On such a basis the anonymous prophets of the industry visualize these general trends visible on the home screen in 1958:

Over all, there are presently no signs of important innovations in TV programs this year. Things will be much as they were in 1957. The safest prophecy of all is that we'll see more Westerns than ever before. This, apparently, is by public demand.

The latest Nielsen rating report shows, for example, that of the 10 TV programs with the largest average audiences five are Westerns. Gunsmoke (CBS-TV) is No. 1 with Wells Fargo (NBC-TV) second. Other Westerns in the top 10 are Have Gun, Will Travel (CBS-TV), Zane Grey Theatre (CBS-TV) and Wyatt Earp (ABC-TV).

Other audience rating systems give an equally popular role to the Western. Maverick (ABC-TV), for instance is giving concern Sunday evenings to such estimable names as Jack Benny, Steve Allen and Ed Sullivan on the opposition networks.

Many of the prophets are certain that there will be a vast decline in the number of weekly musical variety shows. This, again, is based on the rating figures. With notable exceptions the public has not clasped most of the new musicals to its bosom.

There is some talk that comedians—so absent from the set in the fall season—will return as numerous as they were a couple of years ago. Thus far, however, it is largely talk and based on the theory that a hole in the programming dice must be filled with something.

That is, if a large number of musicals go, something has to come in. So why not comedians? But the only comedian now positively slated to stage a comeback in a weekly slot is Sid Caesar, whom ABC-TV launches Jan. 26.

COLD RUNNING WATER—Honest, this is the Antarctic. Playing no joke by a dam site, civil engineer John Davis, of Boston, Mass., left, and Chief Yeoman M. Y. Lipsey, of Memphis, Tenn., divert water from one of the few running streams in that frigid land at Cape Bernacchi, near an airport survey camp. The water supplies a unique luxury for men stationed in the Antarctic during the International Geophysical Year—their camp boasts of the only automatic plumbing facilities in the frozen land.

April. Some dairy leaders will press for legislation to restore a recently announced reduction in dairy supports by Secretary Benson. But Congress would have to act before April 1, the time set for the lower floors to go into effect. Even if the dairy leaders could get such legislation through Congress, they would face the likelihood of a presidential veto.

Pressure will be brought by some wheat leaders to get a two-price plan enacted for this grain, providing high prices for grain used in this country than for export wheat. But it is too late to change the 1958 wheat program because part of the crop already has been planted.

Congress may vote changes in the soil bank plan and in subsidies under the agricultural conservation practices program. But such changes would not take effect until 1959, because the 1958 versions of these programs already are in operation.

So, all in all, the pattern for agriculture in 1958, insofar as it is determined by the government, already has been cut.

free and the land of the brave. Where is the home of the free when helmeted, combat ready, heavily armed paratroopers stand on guard in the corridors of a public school designed to teach children ranging from 12 to 17 years of age?

“I believe the time has come to put legislative handcuffs on those who would use the military against the citizens of a sovereign state on any trumped-up charge. These men in authority who would do such must be persuasively convinced that the framers of the constitution meant for the military to be servants of the people—not their masters.”

More people on Canada's Cape Breton Island, Nova Scotia, speak Gaelic than anywhere else in the world.

Says Congress Decisions May Change Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said today the returning Congress faces decisions that may determine who gains “total control over the earth for purposes of tyranny or the service of freedom.”

“The peril of the hour is obvious,” he said.

leader and chairman of the Preparedness subcommittee which has been probing into the status of the nation's missile and rocket programs, said Russia's leaders have made space control “a first aim of national policy.”

In remarks prepared for a caucus of Democratic senators meeting just ahead of the formal opening of the new congressional session, Johnson said U. S. leaders have followed a “different course.”

“Some dismiss the Sputniks as playthings,” he continued, adding that Congress must decide “which nation is correct.”

to perfect long range ballistic missiles,” Johnson said. “There is something more important than any ultimate weapon. That is the ultimate position—the position of total control over earth that lies somewhere out in space. This is the future, the distant future, though not so distant as we have thought. Whoever gains that ultimate position gains control, total control over the earth, for purposes of tyranny or the service of freedom.”

“The ground beneath us when we last met has been, largely, swept away. How much is gone, how much remains are questions no man can answer with authority.”

Johnson made available to newsmen the text of his talk to the closed meeting of Democratic senators. A similar briefing for Republican senators on the Preparedness subcommittee's hearings was planned by Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.).

Johnson criticized decisions of the Eisenhower administration which he said slowed down or impeded U. S. efforts in the missile satellite field.

“From the evidence accumulated,” he said, “we do know this. The evaluation of the importance of control of outer space made by us has not been based primarily on the judgment of men most qualified to make such an appraisal.”

In advance of the caucus, Johnson demanded that the Army answer testimony from Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of Army research and development, that his expected promotion was sidetracked after he spoke out against Pentagon missile policy.

Gavin disclosed over the week-end he had asked to be retired from the Army effective March 31 so as to be free to “recommend, to apply creative thinking to national defense.”

Dulles to Stay on, Steels Against Demos

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles has decided to stay on as secretary of state and is steeling himself to resist what everyone thinks will be a mounting Democratic demand that he retire.

President Eisenhower is understood to have assumed him of full backing if he will continue. The 69-year-old secretary is reported to have considered his future carefully within the past few weeks.

Friends said he realized that if he wanted to quit, his 70th birthday Feb. 25 and the approach of an expected hectic congressional session would have given him ample reason.

Now that he has made his decision, informants said, he has no intention of quitting under domestic political fire.

The big question mark is his health. He is understood to be confident, however, he will be vigorous enough for the job.

Dulles had some reason to question his fitness when he returned from the Atlantic Pact summit meeting in Paris two weeks ago, weary and suffering from a bad case of laryngitis. At that time he complained to friends he never before had felt so tired.

But, after a five-day New Year's vacation on Long Island, he appears to have bounced back. Jovially, he told friends on his return that he felt as good as he looked.

Martin Gilbert Has New Year's Dinner Party

Martin Gilbert was host at a dinner party at his home on New Years night honoring his house guest, James Buttry of Jonesboro.

The dinner was served buffet style from the dining table spread with a yellow damask cloth. A large glass complete filled with fruit and frosted grapes flanked by smaller compotes entwined with ivy and filled with fruit and a burning green candle formed the central decoration.

Guests included the honoree, Miss Virginia Ann Hays, Ed Bryson, Miss Mary Ann Cabe of Gordon; Jim McKenzie, Miss Betty Ligon and Miss Margie Clark of Hope.

Mildred Buchanan Celebrates Birthday

Mildred Buchanan celebrated her eleventh birthday with a party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Watson Buchanan at their home for removal of a cancerous section of his intestine 13 months ago. Careful medical attention since then is understood to have shown no sign of recurrence.

Dulles is understood to believe the next few months will be critical in deciding the free world's answer to Russia's space age challenge. One of his main aims during this period, informants said, will be to prevent any high-level East-West talks unless solid space work is done in advance to assure the success of such meetings.

President Eisenhower is reported to share his basic view on New Year's day from 2 to 4 p.m.

Party games were played with each guest winning a prize. The refreshment table was centered with a silver and white arrangement. The color theme of pink, white and blue was carried out in the birthday cake, topped with blue candles and encircled with japonica blooms and lace doilies centered with pink ribbon rosettes. White candles tied with pink bows and entwined with ribbon extended to the cake. Mrs. Bill Dawson presided at the punch bowl.

The guest list included Charlotte Duncan, Marcia Reaves, Becky Payne, Carolyn Hallom, Paula Heit, Bobby Taylor, Emily Oates and Neeva Abbott.

James Buttry of Jonesboro returned to his home Thursday after a visit with Martin Gilbert.

Mrs. Elmer Walker and Stella Ann of Magnolia were guests last week of Mrs. Jim Dewoody and Mrs. Arlene Pittman.

Mrs. Bill Caldwell and sons, Michael, Billy Jr. and Phillip Alfred of Kenah, Texas, have been guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Buchanan.

Miss Judy Gilbert was the guest last week of Miss Catherine Cox of Texarkana.

Miss Mary Jewelle Herting was the guest of Miss Jo Burchfield of Lake Village before returning to the University of Arkansas after a holiday visit with her parents.

is not to perfect long range ballistics missiles,” Johnson said. “There is something more important than any ultimate weapon. That is the ultimate position—the position of total control over earth that lies somewhere out in space.”

“This is the future, the distant future, though not so distant as we have thought. Whoever gains that ultimate position gains control, total control, over the earth, for purposes of tyranny or the service of freedom.”

Along with the efforts to do something about the state of U. S. rocketry, the session promises to develop much attempted blame-fixing for this country's having fallen behind Russia.

This is in the nature of politics, particularly in a year when all seats in the House and one-third of those in the Senate will be up for contests.

Already, there is blasting at rivalry among the armed forces. This has brought moves to replace the present Joint Chiefs of Staff with one chief of staff.

A House Republican leader, Rep. Amden of Illinois, has circulated a memorandum which marshals arguments that present U. S. rocket deficiencies go back to the Democratic administration of President Truman. Democrats, on their part, have been sounding the theme that Republicans have controlled the White House and Defense Department since 1953.

Eisenhower's view that a 75-billion dollar budget cap be met out of tax revenues and be a balanced obligation anticipates there will be no serious business recession.

Aged Pair Settle Their Differences

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Two men, 83 and 65, appeared before Municipal Judge M. C. Lewis Jr. yesterday to iron out their differences.

The 65-year-old man claimed his more highly educated companion slugged him when “I didn't move from in front of the TV set soon enough to suit him.”

The 83-year-old man explained, “I wanted to watch the Oregon-Ole State game and he wouldn't move. I'm willing to apologize to him.” He pleaded innocent to assault and battery charges.

It Says “Greatness”... in Any Language!

Wherever highways exist and motor cars are known, the name “Cadillac” signifies but one thing—the unmistakable leader in its field.

For the motor car that has borne that distinguished name for the past fifty-five years has been so well designed and crafted that it has become a synonym for everything good and desirable in a product.

And never have these virtues been more evident than they are in the Cadillac car for 1958.

A single, sweeping glance at the new “car of cars”, for example, reveals a grace and majesty and elegance never before attainable in modern automotive design.

A brief journey at the wheel provides irrefutable proof of the forward strides that have been made in Cadillac performance and in Fleetwood coachcrafting.

And a study of the facts about Cadillac economy and dependability indicates a soundness of investment beyond anything in Cadillac's brilliant past.

If you haven't as yet inspected and driven a 1958 Cadillac, you should do so very soon.

Whatever your favorite among Cadillac's wide selection of models, which includes the distinguished Eldorado Brougham, you will find it a rare masterpiece in everything a Cadillac can be.

HOLDING HIS OWN—Antonio Corvese, of Providence, R.I., gets a good grip on what's left of his "walking" bankroll after he was slugged and robbed of $1,000. The attackers overlooked $9,105.67 rolled up in small brown paper bags and stuffed in pockets throughout his clothing. Corvese, 65, was on his way to work as a janitor when the attack took place. Outcome of the incident was 20 stitches in Corvese's scalp, $1,000 loss and a brand-new $9,000 bank account.

CAPEHART OF THE GOP—Having a grand old party, Sen. Homer Capehart, Indiana Republican, takes the baton to lead the Butler University band in a spirited medley of marches at Indianapolis. The legislator stepped in to pep things up during halftime of the "Hoosier Classic," a collegiate basketball tournament.

THE STORY Ward Sebastian's pack train has been requisitioned by Captain Dillon, who is with the troops sent to quell an uprising of Modoc Indians. During his interview, Sebastian met Connie Ashland, daughter of a Colonel whom he knows.

CHAPTER VIII

The best part of an hour later, Sebastian leaned back in his chair and began packing his pipe.

Helen Chesbro came over and pulled up a chair. She placed her elbows on the table top, cupped her chin in her hands and studied Sebastian with that gray and penetrating wisdom.

"You brought something back with you this trip that you never did before, Ward. It is in your eyes—a sort of shadow. And not because of what happened at Sheet Iron, either."

Sebastian tipped his head and met her glance.

"Shrewd lady," he said gravely. "I know you won't be satisfied with less than all the story. But I warn you, it is not pretty. You heard about the peace payer at Natural Bridge?"

"Some," Jeff Chesbro said. "But the town is full of rumors and you don't know what to believe."

"Well," said Sebastian, "nothing peaceful came out of the meeting. It broke up in another hush."

"What started it?"

"Same old story, apparently. The olive branch was offered, but strictly on the white man's terms, backed by the eye of a gun, looking down the Modoc throat. Under such conditions, the answer was foregone."

"Always, it seems, there is cause for worry," Helen Chesbro put in.

Sebastian's sober glance touched her again. "More than worry for some, Helen. After the row at Natural Bridge, the Modocs split up. From all the signs, Captain Jack brought most of his people down the west side of the lake to the lava-bed stronghold. They bothered no one along the way. But about a dozen others, led by Scarface Charley and Hooker Jim, cut down the east side of the lake. And they left a lot of blood and tears behind them."

Ward Sebastian's face was grim. "The girl who opened the door to Ward Sebastian's know, and who stood limned a gainst the light of a short hallway, was small and graciously made. Her hair framed her head with a smooth sleekness, and her face held a clear perfection of feature. She caught her breath, exclaiming: 'Ward!'

He took off his hat, slid out of his coat, then reached for her and pulled her close.

"Come here, girl," he said a little huskily.

For a moment she seemed responsive. Then all the small perfection of her became full of a vast resistance, and with her hands spread against his chest, she forced herself away, protesting breathlessly: "There's a time and a place!"

and place?" He started down at her and a shade of harshness crept into his tone. "Why shouldn't I kiss you, right here and right now? Anne, when are you going to get rid of this touch-me-not pose?"

She answered him out of a still, shaky confusion.

"It—it's not a pose, Ward. But you—you don't give me time to think. You come in out of the night, almost like a part of it with all its wildness and roughness, and the chill of its wetness on your face. You—you overpower me. Which frightens me. And I don't like to be frightened."

Again he studied her, and a quietness of manner settled on him.

"Sure," he said. "I understand. Sorry."

As though sensing withdrawal on his part and fearful of it, she caught at his arm, hugged it, brushed a cheek against his sleeve.

"I'm awfully glad to see you, Ward—truly I am. It means so much to have you here." She clung to his arm a little tighter. "Come in by the fire."

EARTH'S ALUMINUM

Aluminum represents one eighth of the earth's crust, but it is so intricately concealed that its existence eluded scientists until it was discovered by Sir Humphrey Davy, British electrochemist, in 1807.

There are approximately 1,500 railroad tunnels in the United States. They have an aggregate length of 320 miles.

Considered the most beautiful American opal, the Roebing opal was found in Nevada. It weighed 530 grams.
